

GlobalSIP 2013 Exhibitor and Supporter Prospectus

We are delighted to invite you to participate in the 2013 IEEE Global Signal and Information Processing Conference, to be held at the Austin Convention Center, Austin, Texas, December 3-5, 2013. This is the inaugural edition of this exciting new conference.

Some of the benefits enjoyed by exhibitors during GlobalSIP 2013 are:

- Promotion available through GlobalSIP 2013 announcements and website.
- Centrally located exhibition area with high traffic due to the large number of poster presentations.

Organizations are invited to exhibit their products and services at the 2013 IEEE Global Signal and Information Processing Conference, to be held at the Austin Convention Center, Austin, Texas, December 3-5, 2013.

It is expected that over 400 participants will join the technical program. The exhibit area is strategically located with respect to the main traffic flow of the conference activities. Because the conference has four parallel poster sessions and two parallel oral sessions, there will be a lot of traffic in the poster area.

Conference dates:	December 3-5, 2013
Exhibition dates:	December 3-5, 2013
Expected number of delegates:	400+ engineers and scientists

Booth pricing:

- Early: By July 15, 2013 is $1,500 per booth
- Advance: By November 1, 2013 is $2,000 per booth
- Regular: is $3,000 per booth

Some of the GlobalSIP 2013 support opportunities offer exhibition booth discounts. For details, see support opportunity information. Each exhibitor will be provided a pipe and drape type exhibit back wall, a company identification sign, and a skirted table with two chairs.
